

MICHAEL CHARLES MAIBACH

A GLIMPSE OF YOU

I liked your face instantly,
The softness of your smile.
Your independent spirit,
Your words were without guile.

Your directness was refreshing,
Your humility was real.
Your dedication to motherhood,
Was something one could feel.

In only half a life-time,
You've experienced it all.
The rising hopes, the plans all made,
The loss in one great fall.

Now all you want is "once again",
All you want is more.
One family that's well and whole,
That reminds of what love's for.

That's my wish for Kathryn Kate,
My wish to Good Night Moon.
That the life you want is yours again,
And very, very soon.

God bless you and Mary Grace.

Copyright (c) 2008

MICHAEL CHARLES MAIBACH

WWW.MAIBACHPOEMS.US